GREAT EASTERN AND CALEDONIAN

GOLD MINING CO., LIMITED. Messrs Latgens, Einstmann & Co., the General Agents, forward us the following report received from the manager at the Mount MacDonald, 6th September, 1898. Great Eastern Mine. - The drive north on the reef has been extended to 61 feet, with the reef getting larger the deeper we drive into the hill. It is over a feet wide now, without that we have reached the foot wall. We are opsning out upon a very Targe body of ere, kind I am pleased to inform you that the gold value of the lode is also increasing with a softer country coming in. The afternoon shift on Saturday last brought up some very rich pieces of quartz with gold dotted all ever, so that our prospects in this mine are vastly increasing. How far this rich gold will last remains to · Zulu Main Shaft.-We are busy putting MERCANTUE BANK OF the frame sat over the well hole and are getting ready for driving. The last breaking down of the reef showed splouded stone shaft than before. We have here roughly speaking four feet of pure quartz. This will turn out a fine mine.

Rise and Shine Shaft .- To bring this chaft down to the level of the Zalu shaft we have to sink another 15 feet, its present depth being 105 feet from the old brace. We have a fine reef now in the north end of the shaft, but cannot say yet how large it will be. The stone is heavily charged with pyrites and shows gold to the naked eyo. We shall start to open out here in about three weeks

Bank of England Shait .- The contractors finished 95 feet from the old brace last Saturday, and I have put now only a few men on to prospect the rich reof, which 2340 runs almost at right angles into the hanging wall, into which the big lode dipped just before cutting the flour I have mentioned THE NATIONAL BANK OF CHINA, in my former reports. From the results of this drive, only a few feet, will depend our fature development here. The small lead to the discovery of the large lode deeper in the hill.

Calcdonian Mino-The drive cast to but this roof was last wook in 80 feet and left no doubt that we had passed the clinic of gold. At 34 feet in the drive, about four waske age, we cut a reof about one foot wide, carrying gold, but our acdorground manager voted it not the reef we expected to duti and consequently we drave on. availed myeelf last week of the presence of Captain Connot to get the true underlie of the lude in the old workings, and as our abarft had drained them completely of water, we could get down to the 120 feet level in the old workings, which are of an extent I had not known of, with large quantities of & conce stone still in the

The surveyor demonstrated beyond doubt that the roof we passed is the one we have been looking for and I have now put on four men to drive north upon it. It carries the same lianging wall as the higher levels, and as we have only cut the southern tailend the shall soon open out upon it The gold record of this mine is a very good

Excavations are being carried on vigorbusly. The battery foundry hearsent mon up to start on the logs and I shall push the erection of the plant as fast as possible. Bridge over the Byewash is nearly Dam. -This is now full to its utmost

Of all mean things, I don't know of any to equal the equipping of brave Spaniards with unexplosive shells, brave Frenchmen with unexplosive powder (vide report on '70-1), and brave Britons with bayonets that become corkserows when brought in contact with Arab breast-hones.

A CHAIR coolie in the employment of Mr Gedge, solicitor, was vautioned yesterday morning by an Indian constable on duty at the Peak train station for-causing an obstruction. The constable asked the coolie to remove his chair, and was met with a storm of abuse in which the word barbarian 'was used. The constable arrested the coulie, and charged him, at the Magistracy today, with disorderly conduct. The coolie then chargeil the constable with brocking his chair, and produced the chair basket in a badly damaged condition. The coolie declared the damage-win-dene by a kick from the constable, but, on enquiries being made it was found, that the basket had been bysken with a stone from the inside. - Ander Hastings fined the cooling 810 for the disorderly behaviour and $5 for calling the constable a 'barbarian,' The Magistrate also ordered a witness who had -given evidence for the defence to be arrested and charged with perjury.

By a stroke of humour, truly Saturnian, there appears a measage in the papers from Moscow, which describes the extraordinary police preclutions taken in that city for the safety of the Caar. They are said to have exceeded in their directio vigour all former measures of protection. The Standard correspondent mentions a case where a householder in one of the streets lending from the railway station was refused leave to look out of his uwn windows without obtain ing a special permit, as is required in the euso of strangors. This was howard in was spending the summer, as Russians do at a villa a few miles out of Mosnow, where his name was entered by the police, the town house remaining empty. This may have been an exceptional case, but Certainly serves to show what pressure was exercised by the police. BISMARCK, though emphatically a man h action, was also a lover of books, has his taste was a limited one. 'Give me,' he said, the works of Shakespeare and Goethe, and you may exile me to senis descri island : I shall not grow weary there." He quoted often from Shakespeare, but more often from Horaco. He delighted in his tory, especially-and very naturally-in war history. Of George, Ellot, he was great admirer, his favourite story being Adam Bede. The poetry of Longfellow also charmed him, particularly The Golden Legend, which he described as a beautiful Gorman story. His French prejudice warped his judgment of Victor Hugo who was dismissed with Oh, he is too impossible for me!! Indeed, Bismarck scoins to have been gonerally out patience with the French, but especially while Ambassador at Paris. One of his letters to his wife contains this wail : 'Oh this Paris. I have four clocks in my room, and yet I never know what time it is two fires, and I am dying of cold; six looking-glasses, and my necktis is all out of place; and I am sure I might est six of the dinners they give me and yet rumain hungry. His great grierance was when he dined out. But, he continued, "I generally manage to obtain a liberal supply of bread, and I also eat all I can ateal from my neighbours Of Moltke he said + He is a very quiet man, yery good but very systicions, extremaly fond o money. He lives like a sergoant—that is his one fault. There is still some mystery us to the publication of the Bismarok Moundry but they are expected to see the light of day sometime in 1899.

Mr Mackay's report and the full particulars, together with a report from the Stewards, I have here for the perusal of any Member wishing to see it after the meating.

Mr Master, in seconding the adoption of the report and accounts, remarked with reference to the debit in the Hongkong Bank of $26,000, that the members should be asked to take up, the balance in the shape of debentures. He thought that course at would strengthen their position with the Government, because if the Government said they ought to pay large sums as they were very successful, the Club could say We are proud of the fact that the leaders, they could not pay the heavy charges because they had still to pay debentures. He suggested that the stewards talk the matter over amongst themselves, and if they thought it an advisable scheme they should communicate with the members during the winter months and ascertain what were their views on the matter. Of course it was rather difficult to get noney at the present time. He also suggested that a rule be saided to the niscellaneous rules to provide for the registration of racing colours, so as to prevent pirating

> Mr Lowis said the matter of colours was left to the discretion of the Stewards, and no person was allowed to select colonies proviously chosen by another member. The report and accounts were unanimonaly adopted. The Chairman said he heartily concurred with the glows expressed by Mr Master with regard to the issue of dehentures. He feared, however, the present was not a very opportune moment for the issue, as money was dearer now than it had been for the last year or two, The registration of colours was a good idea. With regard to Mr Lewis' remark, it had been the custom of the Stewards that if two members sent in the same colours the Stewards nomited out to them that they could not have the same colours for two owners, and either one or the other had to alter his colours slightly so as to make a difference between the one or the other. He felt sure the Stewards elected that day would take into consideration the remarks of Mr Muster and Mr Lowie,

TONQUIN AND YUNNAN. an interesting journey. 🚗

The Foreign Office has published, among its miscellaneous series of Diplomatic and Consular Reports, an account of a journey from Hongkong to Ssumao, furnished in July last by Mr J. W. Jamioson, Acting Consul at Canton. The route lay through Tonquin and the southern part of Yannan. Leaving Hongkong on Dec 18, Mr. Jamieson sailed though the Hainan Straits, and one point higher than that of the winners, reached Haiphong, in the Gulf of Tonquin, and eight points better than the score of in two days' time. Through missing the weekly river a camer from Hanoi to Yenbai he was compelled to remain in the Red River Delta for nearly a week. The river journey from Haiphong to Hanoi was accomplished in about lifteen hours, and theheo Mr Jamieson proceeded in steamers that grew smaller at each transhipment to Majesty the Queen for annual competition Vietri and Yenbai, " At Luckay, on the by teams from the battallons of the Army. The journey on foot was marked by an unpleasant incident at Lin an, where Mr Jamieson encountered what he describes as 'very un civil treatment. He was surrounded by a large crowd crying 'Kill! kill!' and. their numbers increased, he applied to the Prefect for a guard, which was ultimately granted. The Acting Consul complained to the Magistracy next day, and later to the Governor-General, as Lin-an has not good reputation for its reception of foreigners. Hibealth and the want of letters of introduction made his passage through records some superfluial impressions :-

What strikes one immediately is the oare which has been devoted to the laying out of the towns and the opening up of communications. To outward seeming there is very litthe Admiral there. It is to be hoped that, the trade done in either Halphong or Hanoi, and both towns, except in the Chinese quarter, present a descried, dead and alive appearance. Mr. E. J. Meugens, boarding officer, charged the master of the steamer Kong Pak, at the Magistracy to-day, with loaving the waters of the Colony without obtaining a port clearance from the Harbour Master on 26th September. Commander Hastings imposed a fine of $50.

A Loxnon telegram states that Mr Chamberlain, the Colonial Secretary, has informed a New York interviewer that England is prepared to accept any reas n. able Anglo-American Alliance. Ho also confirmed the report of the agreement with Germany declaring mutual rights in China

THE reports current several months ago that the two battalions of British Infantry moving in relief out of India would be sent to Woi-hai-wei were contradicted at the time. The rester of relief published shows quite clearly that no such movements are contemplated by the Home authorities.

The following London tolegram is published in Australian exchanges :- The dismissal of Li Hung Chang from office, news of which had proviously been received, has been confirmed. The German Press regard the circumstance as a triumph for British diplemacy. The Russian Government is stated to be making strong efforts to reinstate Li Hung Chang. An English syndicate, has secured the Shanghai-Nunkin milway contract.

THE Melbourne Cricket Club has voted to assist Harry Trott, the well-known Victorian cricketer. Trott, it will be remembered, had been incapacitated for work by renewed epileptic fits. From the fact that a fund is being raised on his behalf it may he assumed that the illness of this popular Australian has developed more seriously than at first anticipated. Wa are sure orinketors all ours the world would regret to learn of Harry Trott's absence, either temporary or permanont, from Australian cricket.

Apour eleven o'clock yesterday morning, a trolly laden with iron charged down. Pokfulam Road, and smashed into a house opposite No. 7 Police Station, breaking three iron stanchious in a window of the lower floor. The seven coolies who were in charge of the trolly had dropped the shalts, and sat themselves down in the side channel for a root, when the vehicle started off, and their efforts to stop its progress were futile. At the Magistracy today the cuolies were each fined 87, with fifty cente compensation. There have been so many accidents with there cumbrous trollies that it will not be out of place to suggest to the Police that these vehicles should be provide ed with some sort of brakes.
